

Hi,

Thanks very much for joining Slainte!, the email updates on new releases, rarities and other whisky news from WoodWinters.

The third in Arran's Icon Range "The Westie" has been released. It is a lovely dram limited to 6,000 bottles drawn from 22 ex-sherry hogsheads and bottled as a 12 year old.

The Westie follows the first two icon releases; The Peacock and The Rowan Tree, both of which sold out very quickly. I have attached a pdf of the imagery so you can see how good it looks - dont be put-off by the rather scary image of James McTaggart lurking in the background, he is looking worryingly vampiric.

The Whisky Tasting Course tasted it here at the shop and really enjoyed it, we found the nose beautifully malty and citric with a lovely freshness. The palate is relatively full but soft and almost refreshing with gorgeous sherry cask influence of subtle toffee and butterscotch sweetness and a delicious nutty, digestive biscuit length. Perfect for sipping in the summer evenings in the garden after a nice al fresco dinner.

For Slainte! there is a special price of £40/bottle (the shelf price is £44), if you would like one just ping me back an email or if you can make it to the shop I have a bottle open to taste before you buy.

I have been reliably informed there are only 88 cases of six for the UK market, we have 10 of those.

The whisky range is getting bigger by the day, if you can, feel free to drop in for a taste anytime - we have about 40 whiskies currently open to try.

Cheers,
Shane
